

MoneyPlace Website Terms of Use

Updated 1 August 2018

This document outlines our site and member terms of use. It applies to you if you choose to explore or take up a product or service (collectively, referred to as the "services") on our website. We recommend that you read this carefully.

Before you continue, it's important to note that our site as well as our services are intended only for customers who are Australian residents. For clarity, our services are not available to customers who are not Australian residents.

By accessing our services, you agree to these Terms of Use and that they are legally binding forming an agreement between "you" and "us".

"You" refers to any individual, acting in his or her own capacity or on behalf of, or as an agent of, a non-individual business entity that is accessing the services of this site, or is a customer of ours.

Who we are

We may provide multiple services including in our capacity as a credit assistance provider, delegate of a credit provider, loan servicer, and product designer.

MoneyPlace provides creditworthy borrowers with unsecured personal loans by using its underwriting technology and the MoneyPlace Loan Origination Service (MPLOS). Loans that are approved and successful are funded by our credit provider, Secure Funding Pty Ltd.

We are your primary point of contact for enquiries in relation to your personal loan. You can contact us by email, by phone or by using the methods available on our website www.moneyplace.com.au for services and enquiries in relation to your loan and application for credit.

Collectively or individually (as the context requires), a reference to "MoneyPlace Group" or "MoneyPlace," is a reference to:

Services

Our services, which are predominantly delivered on www.moneyplace.com.au, include giving you a free rate estimate, or providing you with credit assistance if you are a borrower. This is not an exhaustive list of our services. From time to time, we may introduce new services as we aim to improve on the benefits we offer to our customers. We will also try to improve the customer experience on our website by adding and removing functionality as we upgrade the MPLOS. Any additional services and changes are also covered under these Terms of Use. It's not always practical to ask for your consent each time we vary the site or services, so we recommend that you check our Terms of Use every time you consider taking up a new service with us. We will assume that your continued use of our services or site after these changes constitutes your consent to the changed terms.

Here's an overview of the services we provide:

For borrowers

Tailored rate estimate

We appreciate that your time is important, so when you enquire about a loan on our website, we aim to tell you what the loan may cost you as soon as we can via a rate estimate service. As part of this process, we obtain your credit score from a Credit Reporting Body (CRB) which, combined with other information that you tell us, forms the basis on which we provide a rate estimate tailored to you. We make certain assumptions about you at this early stage to provide you with a rate range, and if you're interested in continuing with us, we will provide you with an exact quote for our fees and interest rate when you complete your application, if we can organise a loan to you.

Unfortunately, at times it will not be possible for us to give you a rate estimate, and generally it will be because we've been unable to access your credit history. This could be due to the fact that one doesn't exist for you (particularly if you are new to the country) or because a server is down. If this is the case, we'll ask you to complete our full application form, where we can get more information from you to make a comprehensive assessment about whether a loan is suitable for you.

If we are able to get your credit score, we may make that information available to you, free of charge. You're not required to, but we also encourage you to request your full credit file from a CRB such as Equifax, Illion and Experian, where you can obtain a free copy once every 12 months.

Credit assistance

If you apply for a loan, we will engage a CRB, and where indicated other service providers, to help us verify your financial information and identity. We've put these services in place to help give you the fastest possible loan assessment and service.

Some of these services are optional and you can choose not to use them. If you choose not to, your loan assessment might take longer because we'll ask you to provide the information we need using an alternative process, and this information will need to be verified before we can organise a loan for you.

We will charge you an establishment fee for these services. As noted above, we will advise you of the amount of this establishment fee after you complete your application. You will not have to pay the establishment fee unless and until you accept your loan offer and your loan has been established.

Alternate loan offers

At times, we may offer to organise a loan for you that's not exactly what you've asked for. This loan offer may be of a lower loan amount and/or a longer loan term. This will occur because the loan you requested falls outside of our lending criteria, and rather than say no, we've organised you a loan that we believe is suitable for you. You don't have to accept the loan offer and if you choose not to, we will not charge you anything.

Before accepting a loan offer, you should consider if the loan suits your needs and helps you achieve your goals.

Additional product terms

Some services that we provide are subject to separate agreements that contain additional terms and conditions ("Product Terms"). This is because that service may have specific legislation governing it, and where we have different processes in place to manage that service. This makes it impractical to identify all of our terms within this Terms of Use, and it would be confusing for you to read information that is not relevant to you.

For example, borrowers who obtain a MoneyPlace loan are issued with a loan contract including a range of Product Terms. These terms in the current state, and future variations if and when they occur, will prevail over all other agreements that borrowers enter into with us.

If there is any clause (that exists today or in the future) within the Terms of Use, Product Terms, governing legislation or any other agreement that you enter into with us that in contradiction, the order of priority is listed as follows. First the legislation prevails followed by the product terms and lastly the Terms of Use. If this occurs, then the subordinate agreement, such as the Terms of Use should be read as if that clause were varied to substitute the prevailing term to comply with, for example, the Product Terms. We may modify our agreements and their terms from time to time, and if we do, we will notify you in the method and timeframe required under the governing legislation.

Account and membership registration

After you obtain a rate estimate from us, we'll ask you to register an account. This is required prior to you applying for a loan with us. You don't have to set up an account with us, however if you don't we may be unable to offer you a loan.

Certain parts of our website are restricted to registered customers only. For example, if you're a borrower and have a MoneyPlace loan, we'll give you an account to access various loan tools and the ability to update your contact details with us.

To access the restricted areas, we require you to set up a login and password. You must ensure that your login details are sufficiently secure. You also agree to take all reasonable steps to safeguard your password. Your login details (including passwords) are specific to you, and your login details must never be shared, written down or stored in a place that's easily discovered. If you share your password and a fraud event occurs, you may be deemed as having contributed to the fraud event, and this impacts your protections under the ePayments Code which are in place to protect you from fraudulent activities.

If you become aware of your login details becoming known to someone else, you must change your password, and if your login details have been accessed without your authorisation you must notify us immediately.

You agree that we can contact you by phone, email, text and mail. We've implemented security measures on our website and in our business practices to protect the integrity of our business, your account and your personal information. For example, to safeguard your interests, particularly when we are receiving instructions to disburse loan funds, we may call or text to verify your instructions, and we may not carry out the instructions received until we have been able to adequately verify that the instructions are genuine and legitimately came from you.
